

TELLS LEGION MEN
HOW TO AID NATIONStrive to Clean Government of Political Corruption,
Beck Urges.

In the absence of Gen. Nivelle, who commanded the French Army at Verdun, James M. Beck was principal speaker last night at the Armistice Day celebration of the New York County organization of the American Legion in the Seventh Regiment Armory.

Mr. Beck addressed a gathering of about 3,000, including veterans, Red Cross nurses and others, on "the story of yesterday rather than the work of to-morrow." He said the successful culmination of the war was the triumph of the average man and that the world often has greater need for the average man than for the extraordinary one.

"If you, as a Legion, rise above all partisan politics," said Mr. Beck, "you can do a great work. You should co-operate in peace as you did in war for the maintenance of authority. You cannot have a sound government if there is to be a running sore of political corruption such as we are watching now. You must strive to clean your Government of this corruption."

"No matter how we may differ as to form of world participation, you showed that our day of isolation is in the past, that to us every nation is looking for leadership." A Victory Medal was presented to a member of every post.

G. O. P. SPENT $3,416,000.

FRENCH LACK, Ind. Nov. 12.—The Republican national campaign cost $3,416,000, according to figures given out to-day by Fred Upham, Treasurer of the Republican National Committee, who is here for a brief rest. He stated that the deficit amounted to $1,320,000.

Treasurer Upham said that he had just completed his report and that the deficit was after all bills had been paid. Mr. Upham said he would leave here Sunday for New York, where he would submit his report on Republican finances to a meeting of the National Committee on Monday. After approval by Chairman Will H. Hays and the committee, the Treasurer said he would file the report in Washington.
